A Clean Energy
Future for a Stronger Region

Welcome

Thank you for your interest in sponsoring the 2026 Annual Clean Energy & Transportation Conference. This premier regional event brings together leaders, innovators, and changemakers to advance a cleaner, healthier, and more sustainable transportation future for the Greater Washington region and beyond.

About GWRCCC

The Greater Washington Region Clean Cities Coalition (GWRCCC) is a nonprofit public-private partnership designated by the U.S. Department of Energy. Serving the District of Columbia, Maryland, and Northern Virginia, GWRCCC advances energy security, environmental sustainability, and economic growth through alternative fuels, fleet electrification, low to zero-emission technologies, and clean transportation infrastructure.

Antoine M. Thompson
CEO, GWRCCC

"Together, we are shaping the future of clean transportation across our region."

Celebrating 15 Years of Regional Impact

For fifteen years, GWRCCC has led the transition toward sustainable transportation, reduced carbon emissions, built local clean-tech supply chains, and driven equity in environmental health.
